TSA - MUSIC FOR THE FUTURE

Weekly online fiddle and guitar lessons allowed students to continue their music education when Covid-19 restrictions put in-person workshops on hold. Virtual lessons and the Music Club will continue when in-person workshops resume in the 2022-23 school year.

PARKA-MAKING WORKSHOP

Three Pond Inlet elders taught 25 residents how to make child-sized parkas in a popular Hamlet recreation department project. The group met twice a week for five weeks to socialize, learn from elders and create cozy parkas for community youngsters.

ICE FOR ELDERS

Many Pond Inlet residents prefer to drink melted iceberg water rather than tap water. Calvin Pewatoalook collects chunks of icebergs and brings them to town. He sells some of the ice to residents but a grant from the foundation offsets the cost of gas and snowmobile maintenance so he can provide iceberg pieces to Pond Inlet elders at no charge.

A HOCKEY TOURNAMENT ADVENTURE

The Pond Inlet Men's Hockey Team competed in the Qamutik Cup Tournament in Igloolik in May. The six who traveled the 400 kilometers by snowmobile faced obstacles including mechanical problems and a severe blizzard with whiteout conditions. As well, many players fell sick during the tournament. Despite these setbacks, team members had fun and look forward to next year's competition in Arctic Bay.
